

Cover Photo:
B.J. Johnson accepts the Green
Section Award from C. McDonald
England, chairman of the USGA
Green Section Committee.

PHOTO © DEBORA ROBINSON

Keep your golf course heading in the right direction by reviewing potential liability situations. See page 8.

A syringe hose with a high-pressure nozzle is used to wash away any remaining debris on the putting green. See page 18.

USGA® GREEN SECTION Record

1
B.J. Johnson Receives the 1998 USGA Green Section Award

2
Protect Your Investment — Protect Yourself

2
A Turn For The Better
A simple change to your aerifier can provide a great benefit. By Darin S. Bevard

3
Pinus plastica*: A Simple Tool for Proper Tree Placement
Use of a temporary "tree" can help avoid problems in the future. By Patrick Gross

4
Taming Unruly Ropes
A practical system that keeps both ropes and traffic in check. By Jim Skorulski

6
Crystal Ball
Using computer imaging to enhance project proposals. By Paul Vermeulen

7
Enjoy the Sand Without Going to the Beach
Sand silos — keeping sand dry and contamination free. By Brian Maloy

8
A Legal Par Five
You will need more than a good selection of clubs and shotmaking skills to get out of these legal hazards on the golf course. By Bo Links and Mike Veron

17
Sometimes Less Means More
Ideas for preserving water quality and developing better turf. By David A. Oatis

18
A Shower a Day Fills the Holes OK
Two nozzles and a syringe hose can improve the incorporation of topdressing. By Chris Hartwiger

19
Reduce The Risk
How coarse is your course? By Keith A. Happ

20
Chosen To Live
A unique perspective to apply to our own lives. By Jerry Schemmel

25
One Man's Trash Is Another Man's Treasure
An effective, inexpensive method for applying dilute solutions of wetting agents to isolated dry spots. By Robert Vavrek

26
Play Misty For Me
Supplemental practice tee irrigation assures survival of young seedlings. By Larry Gilhuly

27
One Beep Ahead of the Storm
Early warning for investment protection. By John H. Foy

28
News Notes

30
Turf Twisters